What the experts say about Camp Fighting Scot...

Scott Aronhalt, Head Basketball Coach, Zanesville High School: "Camp Fighting Scot is one of the few teaching camps in America. Most camps roll the ball out, but at Camp Fighting Scot players are taught how to play the game."

Joe Balogh, Head Basketball Coach, Ontario High School: "If a player wants to learn or improve his basketball skills, Camp Fighting Scot is the camp to attend. Both offensive and defensive fundamentals, with a special emphasis on shooting, are covered by the highly qualified staff."

Reggie Minton, Former Head Basketball Coach, U.S. Air Force Academy and former player at The College of Wooster: "Fundamentals, friendship, fun, and good food are keys to the success of Camp Fighting Scot."

Mark Alberts, Jr., Head Basketball Coach, Northwestern High School: "The great things about Camp Fighting Scot are the sound fundamental teaching and the close rapport between the campers and the staff."

ALL CAMPERS who attend Camp Fighting Scot will receive as part of their registration fee a regulation indoor/outdoor basketball. This quality basketball can be used on both indoor and outdoor courts. Returning home with a new basketball will allow each of our campers to spend his free time working on the skills and fundamentals taught at Camp Fighting Scot.

First...and still best!

FOUNDED BY former Wooster Coach Al Van Wie, Camp Fighting Scot was the first basketball camp of its kind in Ohio and after 49 years, it is still considered one of the best.

Individual Instruction

Making sure every young man receives individual instruction is the main goal of our camp. With a ratio of one coach for every seven campers, individual attention is assured.

Shooting Instruction

Several staff members at Camp Fighting Scot have outstanding expertise in giving shooting instruction. Many hours are spent working individually with campers on their shooting technique.

Experienced Staff

The staff is composed of high school and college coaches who have proven their ability to teach. These men place great emphasis on the highest principles of athletics. Outstanding college players will serve as camp counselors.

Outstanding Facilities

The new five million dollar air-conditioned Timken Gymnasium in the Armington Physical Education Center is the focal point for training. There are four full-size college courts. Meals and recreation revolve around the adjacent Lowry Center.

Camp Fighting Scot

provides the atmosphere where a young man can receive excellent instruction, proper supervision and enjoy the fellowship of other young men who want to learn more about basketball. CAMPERS ARE SEPARATED BY GRADE LEVEL FOR TEACHING AND COMPETITION.

Grade Levels

Sessions at Camp Fighting Scot are open to young men who will begin grades 4-12 in 2019. There will be three sessions beginning June 23.

Registration and Check-Out

Final registration is held between 1:30 and 2:45 p.m. on the first day of each camp session. Check in at the Armington Physical Education Center on The College of Wooster campus. Camp will conclude at 4:15 p.m. on the final day of each session.

Dorm Room Assignments

Due to College housing policy, we have only a limited number of triple rooms available. The majority of rooms will be doubles. Some singles will be available. Campers will be placed in adjacent rooms to friends upon request. Room assignments will be made upon arrival at camp; exception: triple rooms can be reserved in advance.

Fee

The fee for one session at Camp Fighting Scot is $450 for residents and $350 for commuters. This covers everything except the individual's spending money. A deposit of $200 must accompany the registration form. If we are informed of cancellation 7 days prior to the beginning of camp, we will refund the deposit minus a $25 processing fee. Balance is to be paid on the first day of camp. Online registration is also available at www.WoosterBasketballCamps.com.

Equipment

Upon registration, each camper will be provided with a Camp Fighting Scot tee shirt. The camper should bring his own basketball shoes, socks, etc. Please make sure these items are labeled. Each person should also bring his own sheets, a light blanket and pillow, plus informal clothes.

Medical Facilities

A full-time trainer is on duty throughout each session. In addition, the medical facilities of the Wooster Community Hospital are within one mile of the College campus in case of any emergency.

Doug Cline, Associate Head Basketball Coach at Wooster, will direct the 2019 Fighting Scot Basketball Camp. A former outstanding player at Wooster, he is the Scot's all-time leader in field goal percentage. Cline is respected by his peers as one of the best teachers of fundamental skills in college basketball.

Bruce Martin, Assistant Basketball Coach at Wooster, has a very thorough knowledge of all aspects of basketball. Martin served previously as the Head Coach at West Holmes High School. His outstanding individual instruction and teaching of fundamental skills to the campers are key components of the program at Camp Fighting Scot.

Steve Moore, Head Basketball Coach at Wooster, is in his 32nd season as Head Basketball Coach and will continue to be involved in the camp.

Dante Williams, sophomore forward, in action against Muskingum.

A Busy Schedule

Activity begins at 8:20 a.m. The morning sessions emphasize individual and team offensive techniques. After lunch the emphasis shifts to defensive skills. During free time, the camper can take advantage of the College's games room for bowling, billiards, etc., or just relax, or maybe write home. There is league play in the evening. Each camper is assigned to a team by his ability, age, and size. There are awards for the league champions. Before lights out, everyone has the chance to discuss his strengths and weaknesses with the counselors and coaches in the dorm.

A word about food...both quality and quantity are accented at the Camp Fighting Scot training table. Every camper gets as much food to eat as he wants.

The daily schedule is extremely flexible. Since we are primarily interested in what is best for the individual, the agenda will be adjusted to suit each camper's needs. For instance, the younger boys will not be required to complete the same syllabus as the older players.

“Mastery of fundamental skills is the most important ingredient in developing a basketball player's potential. The success of Camp Fighting Scot is built on good teaching. We stake our reputation on it.”
